Nice

"La costanza e la tecnica hanno consentito ai signori Ceresa di portare avanti una piccola azienda di rubinetteria che ha raggiunto alti livelli di qualificazione, conquistando la stima di una vasta clientela, sia in Italia che all'estero."

NICE RUBINETTERIE esordì nel 1974, specializzandosi nella pulitura di metalli per conto terzi. Nacque quindi come piccola organizzazione che in breve tempo seppe imporsi all'attenzione per la meticolosità delle lavorazioni e soprattutto per l'alto livello di preparazione e il suo sviluppo fu così costante che già quattro anni più tardi, dalla primitiva sede di via De Gregori, dovettero trasferirsi nel nuovo complesso edile di proprietà in via Leonardo Da Vinci.

Si cominciò con un piccolo capannone di 200 metri quadrati di superficie che man mano venne ampliato fino a raggiungere l'attuale dimensione di circa 2000 metri quadrati, mentre accanto alle lavorazioni di pulitura cominciò ad avviarsi anche la produzione di rubinetteria in genere che progressivamente si distinse non solo per l'originalità, l'eleganza, ma anche e soprattutto per le avanzate concezioni tecniche.

Si tratta infatti di un tipo di produzione che potremmo definire di lusso che ha incontrato il più completo successo non solo sul mercato italiano, ma anche all'estero.

È una produzione accurata, seguita nei minimi particolari, anche perché il ciclo di lavorazione è particolarmente completo, nel senso che si parte dal materiale grezzo per arrivare, attraverso fasi successive, supportate dal contributo di macchinari che possono essere considerati come l'espressione della più avanzata tecnologia, al prodotto finito, pronto per la spedizione verso i mercati di sbocco.

Basterebbe scorrere anche superficialmente i ricchi cataloghi di produzione per convincersi che ci troviamo alla presenza di un complesso che intende fare le cose con serietà e con alto senso di responsabilità: la serie Bloom, Oscar, Cubo, Stylo, Idema e Funny sono la dimostrazione di una costante ricerca del meglio, di quella tendenza alla perfezione che fa parte dei programmi dell'azienda stessa ormai decisamente proiettata verso il futuro.

E proprio per il futuro è allo studio una nuova serie, con un nuovo design che avrà il compito di mettere in risalto le ultime conquiste tecniche ed estetiche, messe a punto attraverso un'applicazione costante e meticolosa.

Grazie a una mano d'opera specializzata, non molto numerosa, se vogliamo, ma il cui trattamento è ispirato alle più avanzate concezioni sociologiche, sia per quanto concerne l'osservazione delle norme previdenziali e assistenziali stabilite dalla legge, sia per ciò che si riferisce alla cordialità dei rapporti, NICE RUBINETTERIE ha la possibilità di mettere a disposizione della clientela una produzione in grado di soddisfare tutte le esigenze, da quelle squisitamente tecniche a quelle più propriamente estetiche, in perfetta fusione.

È questa la realtà odierna, NICE RUBINETTERIE, un piccolo complesso che ha esordito in forma artigianale e che oggi presenta le caratteristiche di una vera e propria industria di alta specializzazione che ha trovato la sua giusta cadenza e i cui ritmi di sviluppo sono praticamente proporzionali alla sua volontà di fare sempre meglio.

Steadiness of purpose and technology afforded the Ceresa family to run a small business of taps and attain a high quality standard, becoming popular among customers in Italy and abroad.

Nice rubinetterie started in 1974 as a jobbing shop specialised in metal cleaning. Small as they were, yet in a short time they gained attention for their accuracy and above all for their high skill. Being on the up-and-up, after only four years Nice Rubinetterie moved from the original location in Via De Gregori to the new seat they own in Via Leonardo da Vinci.

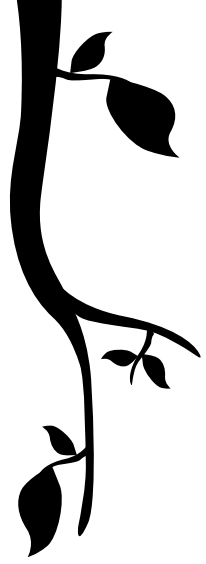

The original small shed, covering 200 mq, gradually grew to approx. 2000 mq. Beside cleaning operation, Nice Rubinetterie started producing taps in general, with steady commitment to original and elegant features, yet addressing their priority to the latest high tech.

Indeed, their valves may be considered a luxury product, largely popular home and abroad. Finest accuracy to the smallest detail comes also from complete processing, from selection of the raw material to packed product over different steps on most advanced modern machines.

You just need goig through our catalogues and you'll be aware that Nice Rubinetterie are determined to stick to full reliability: Bloom, Oscar, Cubo, Stylo, Idema and Funny prove our steady search for the best, pinned on the future.

Indeed, the design for our next range will avail itself of the latest technical and look advances. Through our skilled manpower may be not so large, yet they strictly comply with the established welfare rules and their great consideration for friendly relationships enable Nice Rubinetterie to fully satisfy their customers, as to technical and look requirements.

As outlined above, from a small shop Nice Rubinetterie have grown to a highly specialised industry, who has attained its balance and whose development keeps pace with the firm decision to improve futher.
